Dear Alumni and Friends of Lyndon Institute,

As I was taking my daily walk with the dog I thought about gratitude and appreciation. I appreciate the opportunity to be outdoors with my dog every day. It is a good transition between work and home. When I walk, I take the opportunity to reflect on my day and think about upcoming work or other events in my life. Periodically, I am caught by a bird's song, the play of sunlight coming through the woods, or the ripple of water over the rocks and I am grateful for where I live.

There is a lot of research supporting the benefits of gratitude. Happify Daily states that "people who regularly practice gratitude by taking time to notice and reflect upon the things they're thankful for experience more positive emotions, feel more alive, sleep better, express more compassion and kindness and even have a stronger immune system." (happify.com/hd/the-science-behind-gratitude) Expressing gratitude for things does not need to wait for the big things in life. Nor does it need to be a public display or announcement. Generally, feelings of gratitude are just a self-acknowledged appreciation of something that you appreciate or are thankful for. Many people keep a daily journal noting the things that they are thankful for each day. Other people take it a step further and share with other people.

I am grateful for my work at Lyndon Institute. I appreciate the employees I work with and the effort they put into their jobs; I appreciate the vast network of alumni, board members and friends who support the school in various ways. Thank you all for being members of the Lyndon Institute community. We had a wonderful start to the 2019 school year and are looking forward to a great year! Take a moment, pause and think about it, what are you grateful for?

Sincerely,

Student Ownership For the Viking Voice

We are pleased to inform our readers that the Viking Voice magazine has implemented some exciting changes. The design of our magazine will now be completed in-house. Mrs. Bridget Atkins, LI Graphic Arts Teacher along with her advanced graphic design students are responsible for the visual presentation and flow of material in the issue you are now reading. Mr. Dick McCarthy, Dean of Faculty and Humanities teacher as well as his AP Literature students were also involved in this issue, having a role in the proofreading piece of production.

These changes allow Lyndon Institute students to have real world experience in production of a professional mailing. It also allows for a greater student voice within the content of our magazine produced for alumni, parents and friends to enjoy.

We hope that you appreciate the school wanting this important piece of our communications to be student driven. If you would like to share comments or suggestions, please contact Melissa Hall, Director of Development at Melissa.hall@lyndoninstitute.org or 802-535-3773.

Lyndon Institute Theater Company Presents Mamma Mia!

Mamma Mia!, featuring ABBA's timeless classics and feel good music, came to the Lyndon Institute Theater Company stage on Thursday, November 8th and Friday, November 9th at 7:00 p.m. with a special 2:00 p.m. matinee on Saturday, November 10th.

On the eve of her wedding, Sophie's quest to discover the identity of her true father brings three men from her mother's past to a sunny Greek island paradise. Set to ABBA's tunes, such as "Take a Chance on Me," "Dancing Queen," and, of course, "Mamma Mia!", the audience followed this enchanting tale of love and laughter. A mother, a daughter, three possible dads, and a trip down the aisle you'll never forget!

With artistic direction by Lyndon Institute Theater Company Director, Laura Wayne, musical direction by Susanne Norwood, and choreography by Rebecca McGregor, this production showcased the many talents of the dedicated student actors, vocalists, musicians, and crew members at Lyndon Institute.

Mamma Mia! was presented with special permission from Music Theatre International.

Lyndon Institute U.S. Fish and Wildlife Junior Duck Stamp Contest Winners Announced

On Tuesday, April 24th Lyndon Institute students and faculty welcomed Dave Frisque from the Missisquoi National Wildlife Refuge who visited the campus to present LI art students with awards for their participation in the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Junior Duck Stamp Art Program and Contest.

Lyndon Institute senior Emily Colby earned the top honors of Best of Show for the State of Vermont. After the national judging, her artwork, along with the artwork of other state winners, will tour the country for a year. Additionally, junior Emmalie Bailey and sophomore Kasey Barton received 1st place acknowledgments, senior Jocelyn Pike, junior Xiaoyu Chen, and sophomore Ethan Brill received 2nd place, seniors Jakub Urban, Lylia Davis, and freshman Trinitie Simonds received 3rd place, and senior Allyssa Hall-Hanson received honorable mention. The students' works were created with supportive instruction from Lyndon Institute visual arts teacher Barbara Follett.

Preparation for the Junior Duck Stamp Contest and involvement in the program requires students to study waterfowl anatomy and habitat. To follow, students express their learning and knowledge by drawing, painting or sketching a picture of an eligible North American waterfowl species. The program also provides an opportunity for students to artistically express the beauty, diversity, and interdependence of wildlife.

The annual Federal Junior Duck Stamp competition combines art and science to teach students in kindergarten through high school about migratory waterfowl habitat preservation and wetland conservation. All 50 states and US territories participate in the contest. The Best of Show from each state and territory are submitted to the national level.

Lyndon Institute Students Performed at the Annual Talent Show

The talent of Lyndon Institute students was on full display for the public to enjoy on October 12th as they performed in the annual LI Student Talent Show. The event featured dancing, singing, and instrumental music.

Each year the Student Talent Show serves as a fundraiser to support a bi-annual science field study trip. The trip allows students to immerse themselves in the culture and natural history of a region to gain a wider perspective on global geography and ecological communities.

This event was held in the Alumni Auditorium and all of the proceeds from the event supported the Science Field Study Trip.

LI Students Perform at The District II Music Festival

Lyndon Institute was honored to announce that 30 musicians were accepted to participate this year in the District II Music Festival sponsored by the Newport Rotary Club. The festival is an auditioned event which draws musicians from 14 area schools. Students performed in the honor chorus, concert band, and wind ensemble concerts on March 30th and 31st at North Country Union High School. Congratulations to these talented musicians, and to all the district festival participants. (Not all students present for photograph)

LI Student Places Third in Statewide Business Plan Competition

Students enrolled in Lyndon Institute's Principles of Finance and Business course spent their last semester developing a business plan that was submitted for consideration in the tenth annual Vermont Student Business Plan Competition. The competition is presented by the Vermont Small Business Development Center (VtSBDC) and Vermont Rural Entrepreneurship through Action Learning (VT REAL) which, according to the VtSBDC website, is "an experiential learning curriculum that develops entrepreneurial knowledge and skills, and guides participants through the process of planning, creating, and operating small businesses of their own design."

Jordan Patoine, supported by instruction from his course teacher, TJ Tanner, completed his business plan as a part of the semester-length course. Upon completion, his was among those to be submitted for consideration in the statewide competition. Patoine's plan was then graded on a 100 point rubric which includes a detailed company description, a marketing plan, an operations management and organizational plan, and a financial plan. Following the scoring, the business plan submitted by Patoine was awarded third place for his efforts.

Lyndon Institute Dance Company's Annual Spring Dance Recital

The public was invited to enjoy the talents of the Lyndon Institute Dance Company during their Spring Dance Recital on Friday, May 18th in the LI Auditorium.

The annual spring dance recital is an opportunity for family, friends, the general public, and the LI community to come together and share in the learning of students in the Lyndon Institute Dance Program in the spring semester.

The performances featured students in the Dance Techniques and Elements, Jazz Dance, and Ballet classes, as well as students who participate in the auditioned based Dance Company, independent study, dance club, pointe club, hip-hop club, and tap dance club. Choreographies showcased learning in the foundational studies of dance technique and artistry (ballet, modern and jazz), and also demonstrated student skill and knowledge through the use of the elements of dance (time, space, and energy) to highlight understanding and communication of movement as way to interpret relationships and personal growth/development as well as how dance style/genre has changed through time.

The various dance styles and genres highlighted in the spring recital included: post-modern, modern contemporary, tap dance, musical theater jazz, lyrical jazz, traditional jazz, swing jazz, lyrical ballet, contemporary ballet, jazz hip-hop, and interpretive dance. All of the choreographies featured are part of the LI dance curriculum which is aligned with the National Core Dance Standards and are collaborative products by the dance students and the LI Dance Teacher, Rebecca McGregor.

National Art Honors Society Induction

On Thursday, May 17th Lyndon Institute (LI) proudly welcomed students, families, and community members to the John L. Norris Center for the Arts to induct 18 student members into the National Art Honor Society (NAHS).

Students in the National Art Honor Society demonstrate outstanding artistic scholarship and service to the school and community through the development of artistic endeavors, together with a strong moral character. By exemplifying these standards, the individual student members of the society promote an awareness of art and become active participants in the education process at their school and in their community. Additionally, students are required to participate in community service and volunteerism in the visual arts, enroll in a fine arts class or have already completed a fine arts course, and attend NAHS meetings and activities regularly. The students who demonstrated the qualities associated with the NAHS criteria inducted this year include:

“It is a great privilege to teach art to such a dedicated and passionate group of young people. Each day I am awe-struck by the incredible skill and talent that I am surrounded by. As I watch my students flourish with their artistic techniques, and develop a sense of curiosity about the arts, I have to wonder how art will impact their lives in the long-run,” offered LI Visual Art Teacher Cynthia Helmbreck. “Wherever their path leads, I am certain that this group of students will always cherish their time spent at Lyndon Institute’s Norris Center for the Arts, and I hope that they continue to pursue artistic endeavors for many years to come.”

The Society welcomed artist and author Cynthia DeKett, also known as C.A. Morganis, as keynote speaker. DeKett is an artist, author, and educator from northern Michigan, who now makes her home in the mountains of the Northeast Kingdom. She is the artist and author of Emrysia: The Three Sisters Trilogy, and is currently completing illustrations for a new children’s book on the fears associated with diagnostic testing, with which she hopes to raise funds for the Children’s Hospital at Dartmouth. She is a cum laude graduate of Ferris State University’s Commercial Art program, and was awarded a certificate of completion from the Institute of Children’s Literature in Connecticut. She has also studied under artists Margaret Tvedten, Pat Deadman, and Stephen Huneck.

As an educator, DeKett provided art instruction while in Michigan, and taught music to the students at Good Shepherd Catholic School in St. Johnsbury. She has also worked in a variety of art-related fields, including as head painter for the Stephen Huneck Gallery. She is a staunch supporter of local arts and culture organizations, having donated her time to paint scenery for Vermont Children’s Theater, as well as supporting the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum and others.

Alumni Profile - Eric Blake '94

Brooklin Boat Yard Project Manager Eric Blake recently applied his skills to support the creation of a sculpture commemorating lives lost in the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting.

Born and raised in the Northeast Kingdom, Eric started building canoes in his father's shop when old enough to run a table saw. During his time at LI, Eric took several courses that helped to fuel his passions including courses related to drafting, manufacturing, and engineering. Following graduation, he enrolled in the Landing School's small boat design program in Kennebunkport, Maine and completed the City and Guilds Diploma Program in Traditional Boat Construction at Lowestoft, England. Since then he has worked in boatyards on both the east and west coasts. In his current role with the Brooklin Boat Yard, located in Brooklin, Maine, he supervised the construction of a series of yachts before beginning work in support of the development of the commemorative sculpture.

The wooden sculpture was designed by Massachusetts artists Rich Duca and Meredith Bergmann, both of whom worked in partnership with employees as it was constructed on site at the Brooklin Boat Yard. The sculpture, which is now complete, rests on four pedestals and has four circles of fiber-optic lighting inside, each of which represents one of the four teachers killed during the school shooting. It is displayed as the centerpiece of the Southern Connecticut State University Reflection Garden.

The Southern Connecticut University website states "The Reflection Garden Project strives to promote our communities' shared experiences of joy and sorrow through the creation of a public garden on the Southern campus to highlight social justice and service to others."

Retired Faculty & Staff

Lynn Santangelo

Lynn Santangelo, the former Director of Library Services retired from the position after many years of service to Lyndon Institute. Lynn's last day was June 30, 2018. We are pleased to announce Lynn has rejoined our staff as part-time Librarian.

New Faculty & Staff

Mike Lowe was hired as the instructor for its newest program, Project Bike Tech. Previously Lowe worked at Gould Academy as a History and Economics teacher from the fall of 2017 through this past June and held the role as the Dean of Community Life. Prior to that, he served the Department of Defense in the United States Navy for 20 years, working his way through the ranks up to CDR and serving his final tour as the Deputy Defense Intelligence Liaison Officer in Ottawa, Canada. Lowe earned his Bachelor of Science Degree in Economics from the United States Naval Academy and his Master's degree in National Security Strategy from the Naval War College.

Lowe is a Category 1 Mountain Biker/Gravel Racer and has achieved numerous Single Speed wins at National level events. He has a love for this sport and is excited to build the Lyndon Institute Bike Tech program. Lowe started his tenure at Lyndon Institute on July 19th, 2018.

Sara O'Connor stepped into the Interim Admissions Director role as of July 1, 2018. Sara has been with Lyndon Institute since February 2015 and most recently served as our International Student Coordinator. She has cultivated close relationships with past and present families, students, and agents which will be instrumental in future recruitment for LI. She also has also worked closely with the partner schools in China and has collaborated and assisted Admissions in recruiting and retention efforts. We are excited to see Sara expand her career with our school, and we are confident that her previous experience with our international student population will serve the school well.

Rebecca Lowe joined Lyndon Institute as a mathematics teacher in 2018. She has twenty years of teaching experience and has earned an Online Teaching Specialist Certificate and an HQ Grade 7-19 Mathematics Teaching Certificate. Mrs. Lowe volunteers her time with the Lyn-Burke Lacrosse program in the summer. She resides in Lyndonville with her husband Mike who is the Project Bike Tech instructor at LI. In her spare time, she enjoys gravel bike racing, airstreaming, hiking, and spending time with their dogs. She hopes to someday start a lacrosse team at LI, finish her PHD, and travel to every state in the US and province in Canada to bike race/ride.

Adam Norwood, Ed.D. was hired our new Assistant Head for Curriculum and Instruction and began his new role on July 2, 2018. Adam was previously employed with Lyndon Institute as a Math Teacher, Assistant Head of School Academics, Assistant Head of School for Collaboration and Innovation, and most recently as the Director of Academic Partnerships. During his time away from Lyndon Institute Adam has served as the Principal at Bradford Academy while obtaining his Doctor of Education degree in Education Leadership from Northeastern University. We are excited to have Adam's education and experience in this role.

Shannon Glodgett was hired as our new Administrative Assistant to the Head of School. Shannon has many years of experience in the customer service and banking industries and has even ventured into her own home based business with LuLaRoe. Shannon is excited to bring her knowledge and experience to the Lyndon Institute campus and we are so excited to have her as part of our team. Shannon's first day was Monday, August 27, 2018.

Ereik Cook, MS, ATC joined Lyndon Institute as our new Certified Athletic Trainer. Ereik has many years of knowledge and experience in this field through working at many other colleges and universities and most recently worked at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center as a Staff Athletic Trainer working with the Orthopedic Outpatient Surgery Team. Ereik's first day at LI was Monday, October 2, 2017.

Kristy (Parsons) Lefebvre '02 was hired as the new Assistant to the Assistant Head for Student Experience. Kristy has many years of experience in these administrative and clerical fields and most recently worked for the Essex Caledonia Supervisory Union as their finance clerk. Kristy is excited to bring her experience from previous employers to the Lyndon Institute campus. Kristy's first day was Monday, April 9, 2018.

Rachel Brooks joined Lyndon Institute as a science teacher in April of 2018. She has a BS in Chemistry with a Biochemistry option and resides in East Burke, VT.

Project Bike Tech

Three years in the making; Lyndon Institute won a Program Innovation Grant from the Vermont Agency of Education to bring Project Bike Tech, as part of Career and Technical Education (CTE), to the region for the 2018 - 2019 school year.

Ethan Mosedale '18 crosses the finish line at a race at Kingdom Trails in the fall of 2017.

This program utilizes mountain bicycle technology, trail construction and maintenance, and adventure tourism education as a channel for teaching core academics.

“Travel and tourism, specifically organized around biking, is an important part of the Kingdom’s identity. We are excited that students in the region can incorporate biking and technology into their core education at Lyndon Institute” said Dr. Jason Di Giulio, Director of CTE.

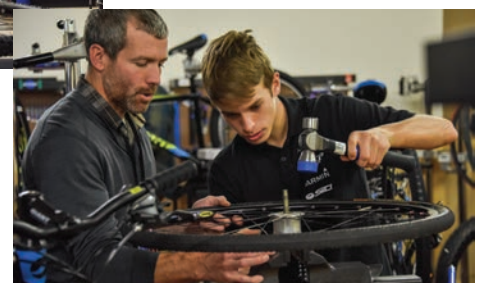

Project Bike Tech uses bicycle mechanics as a conduit to teach Common CORE and STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) elements to students. The curriculum consists of components from the systems diagnostics, service, and repair elements of transportation, with subjects from travel and tourism, such as adventure and ecological tourism. Students in the program also incorporate career building skills and techniques as a component of their experience, and they will leave the course knowing the basics of portfolio building, resume writing and interview tactics.

To further the scope of this new offering at LI, Kingdom Trails signed on to collaborate by providing free passes for all of the students in the program and work with program faculty to offer internship opportunities for students. “Kingdom Trails is grateful for the opportunity to be involved with the new Project Bike Tech program at LI! KT hopes to aid in offering hands-on, fully encompassing experiences for the students, involving all aspects of the bike industry; trail building and development, retailer relationships, event and race production, marketing, and so much more! These experiences will only add to their Bike Tech certificate, building their resume as they head out into the field,” said Kingdom Trails Director Abby Long who will also serve on the advisory committee.

The search for an instructor for this new CTE offering found Mike Lowe who is an accomplished national mountain bike racer and former Gould Academy faculty member and Dean of Community Life. Lowe is a Category 1 Mountain Biker/Gravel Racer and has achieved numerous Single Speed wins. He has a love for this sport and is excited to build the Lyndon Institute Bike Tech program. “It is an honor to take on this role for LI and the community,” said Lowe.

“Bike Tech at Lyndon Institute is an innovative, creative pathway to one of our region’s most exciting assets. We are thrilled to have found an instructor whose energy, enthusiasm, and abilities will help our students earn success in school, life, and the Northeast Kingdom” said Dr. Di Giulio.

Project Bike Tech is a two-year program at Lyndon Institute where students earn industry certifications from manufacturers. Whether graduates directly enter the workforce or continue on to college, they become aware of how core academic principles can be applied in real-world situations, how cycling can lead to a healthy and green lifestyle, and how to properly present themselves as a prospective employee regardless of where they pursue a career.

Athletics

A quick review of the 2017-18 athletic year provides us with a glimpse of what may lie ahead.

The highlight in the fall, for sure, was field hockey winning the state championship for the first time in program history. It took 58 years to get this one, but I'm guessing that it won't take 58 more to get another! The program is strong with over 40 players on this year's varsity and JV rosters. Look for good things to come! Football qualified for the Div. 2 playoffs for the first time in 4 years. With a good nucleus of young talent back, this year's team should provide some excitement.

Volleyball continues its growth, as both boys and girls teams played in the state tournament last fall. A quality group of returnees for both teams should spell success on the court in 2018.

Cross Country has made a comeback of sorts. For the second year in a row nearly 20 student athletes fill the team roster. By the time the state championships are held in late October, the LI boys and girls should be up for the challenge.

Coach McCarthy (boys) and Coach Leafe (girls) are working hard to get the soccer programs into the top tier in Vermont. Being placed in Div. 1 has made playoff success elusive, but both teams are competitive in every game and ready for the challenge.

Last year's golf team failed to qualify for state competition for the first time in more than a decade. However, this year's young team hopes to rebound and get back into qualifying form.

The winter season's highlight was the rebirth of boys hockey. For the first time since 1993, the team made it to the championship game. Their loss to Woodstock in the Div. 2 final didn't dampen their accomplishment. The team graduated 9 seniors from that team, but those returning know what it takes to be successful.

Girls hockey, in their second year as the NCU/LI team, had a breakout year. With only 2 seniors on that club, this year's team is primed for success. Sharing practice and game time between the Ice Haus in Jay and Fenton Chester Arena, the commitment these young ladies have shown is admirable. Look for them to take another step forward this year.

The boys and girls basketball teams once again found success. With both having very successful regular seasons, their placement in Div. 1 made playoff success very challenging. The boys lost to MMU in round one and the girls to BFA-St. Albans in round one as well. Our new head coaches will once again have the Div. 1 playoffs to deal with. Both are excited, however, to be taking over programs left in a great place by Eric Berry (girls) and Phil Joyal (boys). Both Coach Berry and Coach Joyal did an outstanding job of building our programs into prominence.

The Alpine ski team had a fine year, ending their season by hosting the Vermont Alpine State Championships at Burke Mountain. While the boys and girls team's didn't challenge for the top spot, they did have some outstanding individual performances throughout the year. The Nordic team continues to struggle with numbers, but individual performances by freshman Holden Middleton and senior Joe Wray led the way in the state meets. The emergence of Indoor Track in the winter season has led to many top notch performances and full rosters for both the boys and girls teams. Camryn Heath has moved to the pinnacle of elite throwers in the state, and Lyndon's hurdlers continue to impress. The team will sorely miss the talent of the graduated Zosia Prince, one of the top distance runners in the state.

It would be a mistake not to recognize our cheerleaders. They are the spirit of the fall on the football sidelines and of the winter on the basketball court. They also compete in the state cheerleading championships every year in late February. This team is talented, athletic and loud! In the spring, the softball team lost in the first round of the playoffs for the first time in more than 20 years. However, there's a twist. Our team was placed in Div. 1 this year and that proved to be a significant challenge. Now that they have a taste of that competition, they'll be ready this spring!

The same can be said for baseball (also placed in Div. 1). Behind the pitching of senior Brandon Brunell, the team was extremely competitive all year long, but the Div. 1 playoffs were a different story. They fell to #2 Brattleboro in round one, but not before taking them to the limit in a 4-1 loss.

Track and field had some very impressive individual stats, but came up a bit short in the team totals at the Div. 2 state meet. They return some high quality talent so watch out for the Vikings this spring!

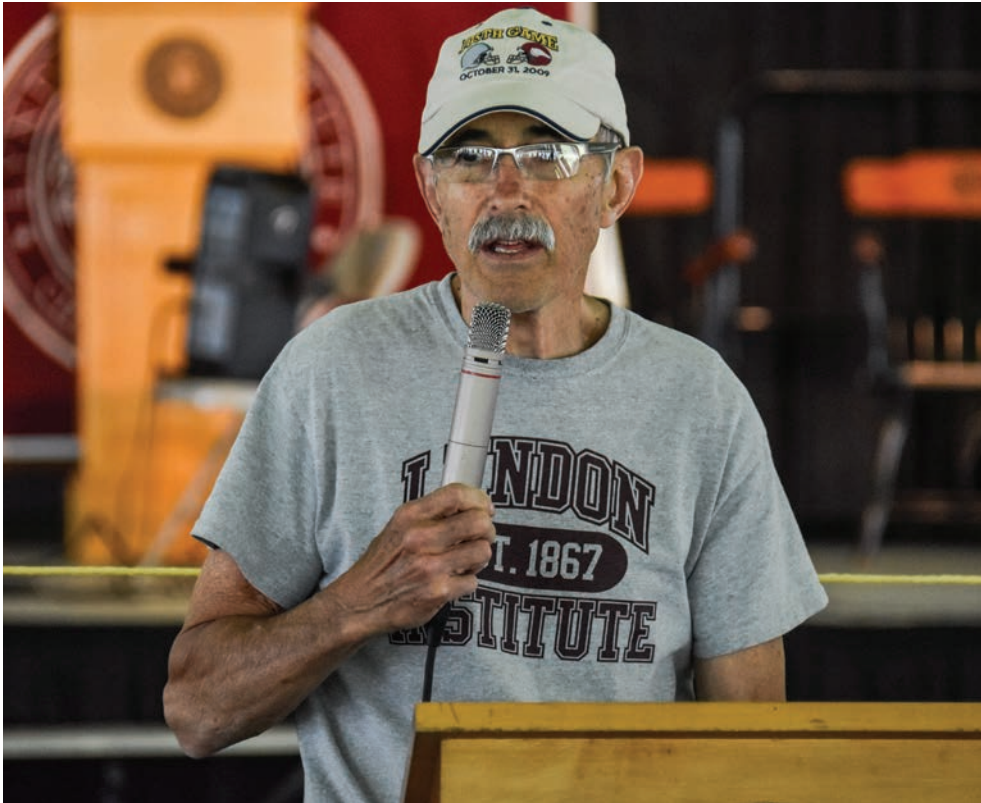

Ultimate is fairly new to the Vermont high school sports scene. This year both of LI's teams made it all the way to the state championship match. The boys lost to Burlington High School and the girls to Montpelier High School, but getting there was quite an accomplishment. Look for Ultimate to be a contender year in and year out. It's popularity is growing!

All in all another great year for LI Athletics. Thanks to all of you for supporting our student athletes as they learn life lessons on the playing fields, courts, rinks and slopes. I hope to see you at one of our events.

Paul Wheeler
Director of Athletics and Student Activities

2018 Distinguished Alumni Award

The Distinguished Alumni Award was established to honor those individuals who have rendered meritorious service to the community, the nation, the school or who has achieved outstanding distinction in a profession or business. The 2018 recipient is well suited for all of the aforementioned categories. Many alumni from the seventies through present day cannot remember Lyndon Institute without him.

T. Michael Flynn enlisted in the U.S. Navy after his high school graduation. After being honorably discharged, he enrolled at Lyndon State College in 1967 and received his Bachelor of Arts in History in 1970. After working at Burke Mountain Resort as a ski instructor and coach, he joined the teaching and coaching staff at Lyndon Institute in 1973. He retired from teaching at LI in 2005 after 32 years of service. He is still actively involved at Lyndon Institute as a member of the Board of Trustees, cheerleader, volunteer, substitute teacher, and friend. Mike is the first to sign up to help at track meets, he takes care of the recycling at the Norma Gordon Austin Alumni Center and Museum at Thompson Cottage, volunteers for the annual golf tournament (no matter the weather), monitors and maintains the Tim Simpson Nature Trails, and the list goes on and on.

Mike has contributed to our community in countless ways and was named, along with his wife Larissa, honorary alumni of LI when they retired from teaching in 2005. It is with great honor we recognize Mike as the 2018 Distinguished Alumni Award Recipient.

Congratulations, Mr. Flynn! Thank you for your continued support and thank you for being a member of our community.

The Annual Gift Report provides an opportunity for the extended LI community to look back at the previous school year and recognize those who supported efforts to strengthen the School and its diverse programs. Gifts to Lyndon Institute totaled $406,383 for the fiscal year July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018 in the form of cash, stocks, pledges, in-kind gifts, matching gifts, gifts in memoriam, and scholarships. With your support our students continue to receive the tools they need to succeed today and in the future.

Greetings Alumni and Friends of Lyndon Institute,

As I write this letter the new school year at Lyndon Institute has just begun. It is always exciting to see the campus buzzing with activity as students move around campus on their way to their next class. Although I took it for granted when attending LI, I found that the time management skills required to move around an actual campus to arrive at class on time was important when I moved on to college. Since moving from building to building was something I was quite familiar with, I feel it made the transition to a large college campus much easier than it would have been otherwise.

This year's Alumni weekend was another success. The rain held off for the Alumni Golf tournament and the All Class Social keeps getting bigger and better. It was great to see people dancing the night away to the sounds of Raized on Radio. The Alumni Cookout and campus tours brought many people back to spend some time enjoying LI's beautiful campus. We'd love to see more people come to campus during the weekend, even if it is just to take a look around.

I'd like to welcome Monica Franz Newell '88 as our Alumni Office/Museum volunteer. Monica has already started going through the many pieces of LI history that are in the museum to better track it all. We hope to be rotating the museum displays on a periodic basis. The museum is a wonderful place to visit to look back through LI's history. In addition to the displays, you can thumb through a full collection of Cynosures, where you can jog your memory back to your time at LI. Alumni Weekend 2019 will be May 31-June 2nd. Classes ending in "9" and "4" will have their reunions. Keep an eye out for information from your class secretaries.

Thank you to all of those that donated to the Annual Holiday Auction. It was nice to share your talents with our community. I donated a large framed photo of my Reflections of LI.

Keep sending in those Alumni updates. We love to hear from you and it is exciting to see the amazing places alumni have gone.

Go Vikings!

Tim Kirchoff '96

Special thank you to Brittney Fraser '14 and her staff for their hard work in preparing for the Alumni Cookout.

Alumni Weekend 2018

THANK YOU

Thank you, to our Class Secretaries and all those involved in making the 2018 Alumni Weekend so successful! Plans have already started for 2019 so be sure to make your travel plans early for May 31st - June 2nd. Please contact the alumni office with any updates to your address and contact information so your class reunion organizers can get your reunion plans to you. Also contact us to share any exciting news for the next issue of the Viking Voice.

-Your Alumni Association Board of Directors

1963

St. Johnsbury attorney, James C. Gallagher, is listed as one of the Best Lawyers in America®. Attorneys from the northern New England law firm Downs Rachlin Martin PLLC have been selected by peer review for inclusion in the 2018 ranking of Best Lawyers in America®. Jim has also been named as one of the lawyers of the year in Vermont in the area of personal injury litigation – defendants. Best Lawyers® lists are compiled based on an exhaustive peer-review evaluation. More than 83,000 leading attorneys globally are eligible to vote, and the firm has received more than 10 million evaluations regarding the legal abilities of other lawyers based on their specific practice areas. Lawyers are not required or allowed to pay a fee to be listed; therefore inclusion in Best Lawyers is considered a singular honor. Corporate Counsel Magazine has called Best Lawyers “the most respected referral list of attorneys in practice.”

1969

Rhoda (Deos) Weed is planning for your reunion to attend the All Class Social on Friday night at Burke Mountain as well as the LI events on campus during the day on Saturday. Rhoda would like to know if anyone was willing to host a Saturday evening gathering and will be sending out information soon.

1971

Cheryl (Cassady) and husband, Fred Lowman, wrote and published a children’s book in 2017. The book, An Inky Summer, is a true story of Fred’s pet crow and their unique and special summertime adventures, which took place the summer of 1960. Cheryl and Fred live happily in Barkhamsted, Connecticut and have a combined family of nine

1977

Carrie (Bingham) and Michael Boera are enjoying the addition of two more grandchildren and now share the joy of four grandchildren.

1983

Charlene Johnston is now making sterling silver jewelry with gem stones at her shop in Ellicott City, Maryland. She is working on building her inventory for another store interested in carrying her work and her travel line is coming out this fall. She retired from a 20+ year career in Water Resource Engineering and Program Management to start her own jewelry company, Jeweling Grace. Her jewelry is created out of her love for stones, desire to lift energy frequencies, and her need to create beauty while serving people.

1986

Bonny (Johnston) Whalen, MD, is the Director of the Newborn Nursery at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Lebanon, New Hampshire. She is also an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the Geisel School of Medicine at Dartmouth College.

1988

Tamara Lush was named as a finalist for her book Constant Craving in the erotic romance category of the 2018 RITA® awards by the Romance Writers of America®. The RITA, the romance publishing industry's highest award of distinction, recognizes excellence in published romance novels and novellas. Tamara currently resides in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she works as a correspondent for The Associated Press.

their family on May 13, 2018. He joins a brother, Broxton. They also were married on September 1, 2018.

Shawn Tester was named to the position of CEO of Northeastern Vermont Regional Hospital (NVRH) in August and will officially take on the position in November 2018. He had been the Executive Director and CEO of Northern Counties Health Care for just over two years. Shawn and wife, Lorelee (Laing) '96, live in Lyndon and have two sons, Timothy, age 11 and Patrick, age 9. Lorelee is a French teacher at the Good Sheperd School in St. Johnsbury, Vermont. (Photo below: Shawn Tester and family visiting with Senator Patrick Leahy in March.)

1990

Kelly (Heath) and Jason Coons '93 were united in marriage on August 18, 2018. (Photo below)

Anne (Corbin) Clow has written a book. Dilemma of Duties: The Conflicted Role of Juvenile Defenders (Perspectives on Crime and Justice). Her research examines the distinct function of defense counsel in juvenile courts, demonstrating the commonplace presence of role conflict and confusion, even among defenders in jurisdictions that clearly define their role. This study focuses on juvenile defense attorneys in North Carolina, where it is mandated that counselors advocate for their client's wishes, even if they do not agree it is in the client's best interest. You can find and purchase her book on Amazon. (Photo below)

1998

Jared Richardson and wife, Elizabeth, welcomed a baby boy, Ambrose Charles Richardson into their family in May of 2018. He joins a brother, Arlo.

2004

their family on March 18, 2018. He joins siblings, Harper and Colton.

Frannie Koenig, MD and Gerry Chang were united in marriage on May 12, 2018. The couple met in medical school seven years ago and have been living in Philadelphia for the past four years as they complete their medical residency training. Frannie started her first job as a gynecologic surgeon at the Philadelphia VA Medical Center serving our women Veterans, having just finished her OB/GYN residency at The University of Pennsylvania. Gerry is an orthopedic surgery resident at The Rothman Institute in Philadelphia. The wedding was a beautiful spring evening with a perfectly timed thunderstorm and they were surrounded by their closest family and friends, which included a few fellow Vikings! (Pictured below)

2005

Samantha (Wheeler) and husband Joel Rossi celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary in September of 2017 with a three week tour of Italy, including a visit with Joel's great Aunt's in the hometown of his late grandmother in Southern Italy. The couple also visited Naples, Positano, Rome, Florence, the Cinque Terre, Venice, Lake Como, and Zurich, Switzerland. (Pictured below)

Martina Costanza started the dance program at Ohio University. She is excited about the opportunities she has been given including contemporary African dance. She wrote: The aerobic intensity of not only contemporary African dance, but African dance in general was at a level that I was not expecting in any way. Having this opportunity showed me that there was so much more to the dance program here than I could have even imagined. I couldn't be more excited to see what the next three years will offer me. (Pictured right)
